Canyon To Host Area Churches

The First Christian Church will be host next Tuesday to the spring convention of the Christian churches in the Panhandle.

Dr. Chester Crow of Fort Worth will be the principal speaker in the morning session, and Dr. Lawrence Bash of Austin will give the main evening message. Dr. Crow is general secretary of the Christian Churches of Texas and Dr. Bash in the minister of the University Christian Church of Austin.

Rev. Gilbert Davis of Hereford is the district president and will preside.

The program planning committee is composed of Rev. Jeff Hassell of Dumas, Rev. Joe Kennidy of Panhandle, and Rev. Dale M. Harter of Canyon.

Mrs. Marion Higdon is chairman of the banquet committee.

Kiwanis Organize New Club Here

Officers were elected Tuesday night at the organization of a Kiwanis Club in Canyon. The organization was directed by a representative of Kiwanis International, Fred Winebrenner of Chicago.

Elected here were George Blackwell, president, C. C. Callarman, vice president, Bob Griffith, secretary, and E. T. Cummings, treasurer.

Sponsoring the new club here was the San Jacinto Kiwanis Club in Amarillo. June 5 has been set for the charter date, and the installation will be at a dinner meeting in the college cafeteria.

Regular meetings will be at noon on Fridays in the Legion Hall.

Last Rites Held For Friemel Baby

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. W. F. Bosen, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church at Umbarger, conducted funeral services at 9 a. m. Saturday at the church for Kevin Bruce Friemel, 10-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Friemel.

The infant died at 9:15 a. m. Thursday in his home after a lengthy illness.

Burial was in the church cemetery under the direction of Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Besides his parents, the infant is survived by three sisters, Jeannette, Evelyn and Valerie; a brother, Robert; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Grabber and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Friemel, all of Umbarger.

Catholics Buy New Church Site

Purchase of a 15-acre site east of Canyon by St. Ann's Catholic Church has been announced by Father James Comiskey, pastor.

The land, under present plans, will be the future site of a completely new plant, including church, rectory, school and convent.

Construction will probably not begin for about five years.

The property was purchased from W. R. Crow. It is just east of Canyon adjacent to the Pioneer Estates development.

Men of the congregation have already spent time getting the new land into shape, the pastor said.

Choice of the site was made by the Church Committee, in conjunction with Father Comiskey. Committee members are Bud Hickman, chairman, Pete Fischbacher, Mauro Hernandez, Tony Rossi and Irwin Podzemny.

Charter Approved for June Election

Canyon's proposed home rule charter was approved by the 15-member charter commission Thursday night and has been recommended to the city commission for a charter election to be held June 23.

At least 30 days prior to the election a copy of the proposed charter will be mailed to each voter in the city. The election will be to approve or disapprove the charter, and to elect two additional members to the city commission in the event the charter is passed.

The charter will switch Canyon's form of government from general law, operating under laws passed for all cities, to home rule. Under the home rule form, the voters of the city approve a charter which includes all powers and duties to be granted to the city. The charter cannot grant powers not given by the legislature or constitution, but it gives the citizens a great measure of home rule.

Major differences that will be noticeable in the near future between the way the city is now operated and how it will be operated will be in the addition of two members to the commission and the use of a city manager. The terms of the two new commissioners will be staggered with the terms of the old commission so that an entirely new commission will not be elected at the same time—thus allowing experienced members to always be on the commission.

The charter is quite long, and hard to read, because it is necessary to enumerate each power the city is to have. It has been held by the courts that if a power is not enumerated, the city has not authority to exercise that power.

In writing the charter, the charter commission used the charters of Hereford, Amarillo, Littlefield, Dallas, Waco, Snyder and model charters for source material. The proposed Canyon charter follows the Hereford charter rather closely.

The Hereford Charter was adopted in 1952, and has been amended twice since that time. The amendments were to add two members to make a five-member commission and to establish a corporation court. The proposed Canyon charter includes those changes from the outset.

In addition to using charters of other cities, the charter commission submitted the proposed charter to the Texas League of Municipalities for criticism and suggestions for changes.

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce plans a Town Hall meeting to explain the provisions of the charter to the citizens. The date for the meeting has not been set, but it will probably be held after the copies of the charter have been mailed to the voters.

The charter commission began working in February after being appointed by the city commission. The movement for a home rule charter was started nearly a year ago during the Community Forum sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

A chamber committee was appointed to study various forms of city government and reported that Canyon should adopt a home rule charter with a council-manager type of government. The chamber circulated a petition calling for the city commission to appoint a charter commission to write such a charter.

Historical Society Announces Speaker for Annual Banquet

Speaker for the banquet climaxing the annual meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society May 8 will be General Albert C. Wedemeyer, author of the famed "Wedemeyer Reports."

Gen. Wedemeyer will speak at the 7 p. m. banquet, to be held in the West Texas State College cafeteria. A meeting of the society's executive committee will be held at 2 p. m., and a general annual business meeting of members and the board of directors will be held at 3 p. m. At the latter meeting new officers of the society will be elected.

C. Boone McClure, director of the museum, said that 200 copies of the "Wedemeyer Reports," a current best seller in non-fiction, have been ordered and that an autograph party will be held for the general.

Gen. Wedemeyer is best remembered as commander of the China Theatre of Operations during World War II after Gen. Joseph Stilwell was recalled from the China-Burma-India Theatre. He assumed this post in 1944 and retained it, and was also chief of staff to Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek, until 1946.

GENERAL ALBERT C. WEDEMEYER

In the summer of 1947, he was sent to the Far East by President Truman with the rank of ambassador, to make a survey of the tense politico-military situations then existing in China and Korea. Result of the mission was the famous Wedemeyer Report, which was not revealed to the public until 1949, and later in 1951, when Wedemeyer and others testified at the Congressional Investigation which followed the relief of General MacArthur from command.

After Gen. Wedemeyer's mission to the Far East in 1947, President Eisenhower (then Chief of Staff) appointed him director of the plans and operations division of the Army General Staff. The next year he was appointed Deputy Chief of Staff of the Army, and in 1949, until his retirement in 1951, Gen. Wedemeyer was commander of the Sixth Army.

Since his retirement from the Army, Gen. Wedemeyer has been active in industry, serving as vice president and member of the board of directors of the AVCO Manufacturing Company, 1951-54, and of the Rheem Manufacturing Company in 1954-56. He is now retired to his farm in Ducks, Md., where he is raising beef cattle and writing his memoirs.

Swine Association To Elect Officers

Election of permanent officers will highlight a meeting of the West Texas Swine Improvement Association tomorrow night at 8 in the agriculture building at West Texas State College.

Other business will include reports on the total number of pens sold and the rules for the testing station to be established here.

Temporary officers are Larry Tackett of Happy, president, and John Brazzil of Canyon, secretary-treasurer.

Fish To Be Killed in Buffalo April 29 With Restocking Planned in Summer

Buffalo Lake's fish population will be killed the last of this month, and fishing will be closed for a year.

A decision to kill the fish and restock the lake was made last week following a gill net test of the population by Leo Lewis, aquatic biologist of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. Bob Darnell, manager of the lake for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, announced the decision and plans for the lake.

Present plans are that an airplane will spray rotenone on the lake early the morning of April 29. Enough rotenone will be sprayed to kill all the fish in the lake.

Boats will be barred from the lake while the plane is spraying, but will be allowed to return as soon as the spraying is finished. Anyone who wishes may gather fish from the lake, according to Recil Johnson, concession manager.

Rotenone is not a poison, but a nerve depressant. It has the effect of paralyzing the gills of the fish, and they drown. The chemical does not harm the fish for eating, and any fish cooked after being killed by rotenone is good for eating, Johnson said.

The lake will be restocked with game fish in about a month or six weeks after the spraying. Fishing will be opened again next year. Boating will be allowed on the lake while fishing is closed.

Johnson said that the fish will begin to come to the surface about two hours after the rotenone is sprayed on the water. He said the airplane that will spray the lake is coming from Hereford, and will probably make its first pass over the water early in the morning.

The gill net tests conducted last week showed that the population of fish is about 83 per cent carp and about 75 per cent rough fish of all types. The nets caught no bass or crappie, according to Lewis. He said he believes the winter kill during the extreme cold last winter destroyed most of the bass and crappie along with millions of shad.

Caught in the gill nets placed Tuesday night and removed Wednesday were 186 carp, 11 carp suckers, 10 goldfish, 10 channel catfish, six bullhead catfish and one flathead catfish.

Johnson said that 1800 feet of gill nets were placed in the lake in a number of places.

Eagle Thinclads Win District 4th

The mile relay team took third place with a time of 3:39.2. The team was composed of Richardson, Henderson, Marrs and Nester. Eddie Boydstun is a regular member of both the mile and 440-yard relay teams, but he pulled a muscle and Marrs replaced him.

Boydstun ran a 10.4 second 100-yard dash in the preliminaries, and had the fourth best time. Marrs ran the 100 in 10.7 in the preliminaries.

In the high jump, Killingsworth jumped five feet. Bill Cornette put the shot 36'6" and Henderson put it 34'6." Henderson threw the discus 105 feet and Bill Callarman threw it 100 feet.

Pioneer Businessman Dies Here

The man who has been in active management of a business in Canyon longer than anyone else died Monday afternoon in Neblett Hospital, which he built in the late 1930's for Canyon.

Charles R. Burrow was 80 years old, and his death came just a few months short of the 60th anniversary of his arrival here. He had been in ill health since suffering a heart attack on Nov. 11, 1957.

Funeral services will be conducted at 4 p. m. today in the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Don Price, pastor, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. John R. Sharp, retired Presbyterian minister.

Pallbearers will be Delbert Lowes, D. B. Lowes, J. A. Edwards, Tom Cox, Clarence Thompson, Lee Foster and Dan Sanders.

Burial will be in Dreamland Cemetery under direction of Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Mr. Burrow is survived by his wife, a daughter, Mrs. R. A. Neblett, a granddaughter, Mrs. Dorothy Elizabeth Perkins, and a grandson, Charles Robert Neblett.

Charley Burrow, as he was affectionately known by hundreds of Canyon citizens, was born Nov. 6, 1878, in Shelby County, Texas. When he was four, his family moved to Comanche County, and he lived there 16 years.

In 1898, Mr. Burrow moved to the plains country and began working for Stringfellow and Hume Hardware in Amarillo. Shortly he moved to Roswell to work for the Pecos Valley Railroad. On July 15, 1899, Mr. Burrow came to Canyon to work for the Eagle Lumber Company, owned by Rockwell Bros. and Company of Houston.

The name of the lumber yard was changed to Canyon Lumber Company, and in March, 1900, Mr. Burrow was named manager of the company.

When Mr. Burrow came to Canyon, the town almost wasn't here. All of the buildings were of frame construction, and there weren't too many of them. The Victoria Hotel, built by L. G. Conner and named for his wife, stood where the post office now is. There were only two houses between the hotel and the depot, which was located just west of the present station.

Among the business firms here then were Kenyon Grain and Coal Co.; Smith, Walker and Co.; Big Four Grocery; Hadley Drug Store; Oscar Hunt's Furniture Store and The Stayer, forerunner of The Canyon News. None of those businesses exist now, except for the newspaper, and it has had four changes of management since those days.

C. R. BURROW

A picture of the Canyon Lumber Company taken in 1902 shows it to be in the middle of a bald prairie with only six houses in the background.

Before the railroad was built to the south, the lumber yard was a major shipping point of building materials to the south plains, supplying much of the lumber for construction in Tulia, Floydada, Crosbyton, Slaton and other towns in that area.

Mr. Burrow and Miss Bula Wright were married on April 29, 1903, in Henrietta, and immediately established their home in Canyon.

On May 15, 1908, the Canyon Lumber Company was moved to its present location at the corner of Third Avenue and 16th Street. In that same year, Mr. Burrow and W. W. Stephenson established the Canyon Sash and Door Company, made it a success, and Rockwell Bros. moved to Amarillo, where it became the present Amarillo Sash and Door.

In 1919, Mr. Burrow bought the interest of Rockwell Bros. in the yard here, and became owner of it. Later the name was changed to Burrow Lumber Company. In Where Is School Control?

Senator Ralph Yarborough, who campaigned last summer with a promise to put the "jam on the bottom shelf," said Saturday that federal aid to education does not mean federal control. He said that many people thought that the state would control the local school boards years ago when the state started helping the school districts, but that hasn't happened.

Let's see if the schools of Texas are controlled by the state or not.

What's the most important thing about a school? The curriculum, of course, the things the school teaches. That's what all the rest of the business is about. Now what degree of control does the local board have over curriculum.

The state tells the local board what must be taught. It tells the local board what credits are required for graduation. Oh, the local board can offer more subjects than the state requires, but it can't offer fewer. The local board can raise the requirements for graduation, but it can't lower them.

The local board does the hiring and firing of teachers, and can hire anyone it wants—so long as that person has the approval of the state in the form of a teacher's certificate. The local board can pay any salary it wants to, so long as the salary is as high as the state minimum. The board can pay more but not less.

The state tells the local board how many days that school must be held. The local board can hold school more days, but not fewer.

But, you say, the local board can do just what it wants to in those things. In theory, the local board can offer fewer subjects, require less for graduation, hire anyone it wants for teachers, pay any salaries it wants and hold school to suit itself. But what happens.

If the subject offerings and graduation requirements are below the minimum, the state takes away the accreditation of the high school and its graduates cannot go to any college without taking entrance examinations.

If the local board hires teachers without certificates and is able to find teachers who will work for a salary below minimum, the state takes away the money it gives the local schools.

If the local board complies with all the rest of the regulations, but does not keep the school open the required number of days, the state takes off money for each day under the minimum.

Whether or not the minimum requirements of the state are good or bad is not a question here. As a matter of fact, the minimum requirements are probably good for the schools of the state and are of benefit to the school children.

The question here is whether or not the state has control of the operation of the local schools. It's easy to see that in the most important areas, the state's minimum is an absolute control, leaving the local board the choice of fulfilling that minimum or doing more—never less.

The state pays about 80 per cent of the cost of operating the local schools, with the local district paying about 20 per cent. The state makes the decisions, and passes them down to the local board. The local board complies, or loses the state aid.

Anyone can see that the same principle would apply if the federal government entered the school financing business, Senator Yarborough's jam jar notwithstanding.

We'll Miss Buffalo

This summer, fishermen in Canyon are going to be hard put to find a spot where they can spend a few hours dabbling a minnow in the water. There are plenty of places to fish that are close enough for a full-day or weekend trip, but none close enough that an angler can run out after work, fish awhile, and get back home in time for bed.

We're going to miss Buffalo this summer, and we'll be sure to appreciate it more when it is opened for fishing again.

Goal in Sight

The present city commission has been an "economy" commission that started off in the hole and has been hard put to make ends meet. The goal of the members is to put the city's finances on an even keel so that future commissions will not have to borrow to meet the monthly bills.

By pinching pennies and scraping by as cheaply as possible, the commission has been able to set aside enough money to pay the interest and principal requirements of tax bonds for the coming year. In the coming year, between now and the election the first of April, they hope to be up close enough to set aside all tax money that comes in this year for use during the next fiscal year.

In other words, they hope to save the tax money that will come in from October to February and present it intact to the next commission. That's something that hasn't happened in quite a while in Canyon.

We wish the commission the best of luck in reaching their goal. It will mean a lot for the city and for the people. It's amazing that they have been able to do as much as they have.

Congratulations

Last summer and fall, J. D. Byrd, owner of the J. J. Walker Prescription Lab, remodeled the store and changed its looks completely.

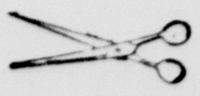
Earlier this year, the store was featured as the Store of the Month in a regional druggist magazine. And this month, his store gained nationwide recognition.

The American Druggist, a trade magazine of national circulation, featured a full page of pictures of the drug store, and explained the plan of remodeling. Since then, Byrd has received a letter from a druggist in Tennessee asking for a floor plan.

Such things as this help put Canyon on the map. Congratulations.

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings



Nancy Ezzell in the Canadian Record: Our five-year-old, the only child at home and the only one in the neighborhood during school hours, has been yearning for a dog to play with. So, while we were in Amarillo last weekend we looked for a friendly, small-sized dog to bring home with us. The pet shops yielded a variety of pups, from beagles at $37.50 to dashshunds at $50 and poodles at $100. But having been advised to try there, we looked also at the Animal Control Center (which used to be called, in my youth, the Dog Pound) and found a number of appealing dogs ready for adoption. No dog is sold from the Animal Control Center, all are adopted on the condition that the new family take the dog to a veterinarian and have shots given to it for rabies and distemper. In Amarillo another requirement is the purchase of a dog license; for out-of-towners this is waived. The dogs are kept in separate pens for at least five days before being put up for adoption, so that symptoms of illness can be observed and treated.

The pup which took our eyes and hearts was an eight-month-old charmer named "Tip" which seemed to want us as much as we wanted him. The papers were signed, the trip to a vet was made and "Tip" became a member of the family. By the time we were home he had endeared himself to all of us, and when experience showed that he was house-broken, never barked when in the house and never ventured upstairs from the basement, our cup overflowed. The sad fact that he finds sox left on the floor delightful chewing is minor compared with his virtues—and may even serve to teach our boys to pick their belongings up and put them away, a lesson I have not been able to get completely across.

If you are ever in need of a dog and cannot find one locally to your liking do try the Amarillo Control Center and make some harmless dog a happy one.

Jimmie Gillentine in the Hereford Brand: Farmers are pretty sharp people these days. I was reading this week about a farmer whose barn caught on fire and burned down. Before the smoke had cleared away his insurance man was on the spot, and the farmer wanted to know when he would get the money. "If you read the fine print," said the adjustor, "you will note that we have the option of rebuilding your barn just exactly as it was before the fire—and that is what we expect to do."

"OK," responded the disappointed farmer, "but if that is the way your company operates, you get back to the office as fast as you can and cancel that life insurance policy on my wife."

George Dolan in the Fort Worth Star Telegram: Memo from a motel desk clerk (after I had complained that the people in the next room were so noisy that I couldn't even hear myself type): "Type louder."

Harold Hudson in the Ochiltree County Hereld: We had a meeting of the industrial contact committee of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning to revise our brochure and make plans for calling on industrial prospects and the question of building construction came up. City Manager J. W. Whigham pointed out that building permits in 1954 were less than $500,000 and that we jumped every year until it appears that it will hit $5,000,000 this year. This is building permit figures, too—and does not represent the actual value of the construction being done.

The builders that are operating in Perryton have a capacity for 250 new houses per year, it is estimated. All are running full blast now and are selling houses rapidly. Despite the number of new houses that have been built, there has been little in the matter of having plenty of rental housing available.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

This columnist requested Congressman Ralph J. Rivers of Alaska for an Alaskan anecdote and the following was kindly sent:

One day in 1932 when I was a young lawyer practicing in Fairbanks, Alaska, a mine worker from the creeks walked into my office and asked me to represent him as he was going to be sued. I soon found out that the two adversaries had purchased tickets for marking their guesses on the day, hour and minute of the breakup of the ice in the Tanana River at Nenana. Each ticket had cost $1. About 56,000 tickets had been sold, and the winner or winners were to get about $54,000.

The breakup was late and all the early guesses were no longer any good. On the night of the 13th of May a group of the boys were sitting around in the mining company bunkhouse at Chatanika, and, in talking about the pending breakup, Olson, my client, stated that he had a ticket for the 14th and Johnson divulged that he had one for the 15th.

Johnson said to Olson, "I'll pool my chances with you." Olson said, "O.K." (Meaning that if either of their respective tickets won, they would split the proceeds 50-50.) The next day the ice went out on the day, hour, and minute shown on the ticket held by Olson, which was one of three winning tickets and represented a windfall of $18,000.

When Olson came off the job that evening, Johnson met him, shook his hand, and said, "Hooray, we won!" Olson said, "What do you mean 'We won' — I won!" Johnson said, "We agreed to split." Olson replied, "I was only fooling."

The next day Johnson retained a leading Fairbanks attorney on a 50% contingent fee basis. This lawyer called on me in a few days, and we discussed the law of the case. I bravely told counsel that our clients were in pari delicto (equally out of line in the eyes of the law) and that the court would not enforce a gambling agreement.

He then forced me to admit that the Alaska statute prohibited anyone from establishing or conducting a lottery, but did not make it an offense to purchase or be the holder of a lottery ticket, from which it followed in certain court decisions in such cases that the persons who have pooled their chances were not in pari delicto and that the courts would entertain actions to enforce an agreement for the division of a contingent fund upon the occurrence of the contingency.

After admitting to a meeting of minds as to the law of the case, it was decided not to start any litigation lest such action "kill the ice pool" which was a time honored classic in the realms of northern sporting events. Johnson agreed to settle for $6,000, being convinced that his action had taught Olson a lesson, and Olson gladly agreed to take the remaining $12,000.

Thus the two contending parties emerged in good standing in the eyes of the law as they were not in pari delicto, and the tickets produced four winners—the two contending parties and the two lawyers.

Announce Engagement

JANET ELAINE MIDDLETON

The engagement of their daughter Janet Elaine, to Delmer David Hutto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmer W. Hutto of Tulia, has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Middleton of Happy. The wedding will be June 4 in the First Methodist Church of Happy, with the Rev. Walter Hadley, pastor, officiating.

Harrison Given Research Grant

A grant-in-aid to conduct summer research has been awarded to a West Texas State College history professor.

He is Dr. Lowell H. Harrison, professor and head of the WT history department. The grant comes from the Southern Fellowships Fund, an agency of the Council of Southern Universities, Inc. The fund has awarded such grants for research for the past three years.

The proposed research by Dr. Harrison would be on the works of Thomas R. Dew of William and Mary College, who prepared in 1832 an extensive article on Slavery. The work was later expanded to a book and represents the most extensive of Southern thought and argument for slavery. Dew prepared all possible answers to attack on "the peculiar institution" of the South.

The works of Dew have long been out of print and are not available to general students of Southern history. Dr. Harrison proposes to conduct research at William and Mary in Williamsburg and in Richmond, Va., as well as the New York Public Library.

Dr. Harrison is author of an article on Dew which was published in 1949 in the "Virginia Magazine of History and Biography." Dr. Harrison has added a number of courses in the history of the South to the WT curriculum and he teaches such courses as "The Old South," "The United States, 1789-1865," and "The New South."

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Whichever way the ball bounces, Texans can look forward to a hefty increase in state taxes for 1960-61.

House of Representatives passed a general appropriations bill calling for spending of $332,000,000 from general revenue. Senators took a more economical approach, began their work with a bill calling for $30,000,000 less than the House measure.

Even so, the Senate proposal would put spending some $21,000,000 above the present level and require an estimated $117,000,000 in new tax money.

House bill includes longevity pay raises for long-time state employes and increases in welfare checks to the aged, blind and dependent, all added during floor debate. House also accepted committee recommendations for boosts in the appropriations for higher education, state hospitals and special schools and the prison system.

★

Gasoline Tax Viewed

Gov. Price Daniel says he's ready to support a 1-cent hike in the state gasoline tax if it will be used to improve public schools, raise teacher salaries.

Neither the House nor Senate appropriations bill included public school teacher raises. Lawmakers seemed to think this, if it were to be done, should be handled in a separate bill.

Texas still would have a lower gasoline tax than other states, said Daniel, even after the 1-cent raise. He said he felt service station operators would "go along" with it if it were for the purpose of better schools.

Opponents say that, with practically everyone having to use a car these days, the gasoline levy is about as "general as a sales tax can get."

★

Health Chief Resigns

Recent target of lawmakers is the State Health Department, where Commissioner Henry A. Holle stepped out of his $16,000-a-year post under the glare of legislative disapproval.

Dr. Holle said he felt the department would be better off with another commissioner who could get more support in the way of legislative appropriations.

Meanwhile, both House and Senate launched inquiries into Health Department spending practices.

★

Flexible Rating Off

State regulation of Texas auto insurance rates apparently will continue for at least another two years.

Senate Insurance Committee refused to approve a flexible rating plan, sent it to the sub-committee "graveyard."

Backers of the bill, mostly large out-of-state companies, claimed it would save Texas auto owners millions. Careful drivers would be rewarded with lower insurance, they said.

Opponents, including most Texas companies, fought the bill, said it would "take the lid off" rates. They said a merit rating plan, being considered by the State Board of Insurance, would take care of rewarding safe drivers.

Lending Bill Filibustered

Senate disagreement over how to improve loan shark regulation brought on the first filibuster of the session.

Sen. Abraham Kazen of Laredo sponsored the House-passed measure which would, if approved by a vote of the people, amend the constitution. It would allow the Legislature to license lenders and set maximum interest rates. Present 10 per cent ceiling, widely ignored, would be abolished.

Sen. Frank Owen III of El Paso led a long-winded assault on the measure. He and other senators insisted such regulation should be limited to loans under $500 and $600.

Senate gave Kazen's measure preliminary approval, despite all the opposition.

Party In-Fighting Begins

Fifteen months ahead of convention time is not too soon for Texas Democrats to start haggling over who'll receive their presidential nominating votes.

U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson is the focal point of controversy. Recent developments:

Young Democrats of Texas, currently controlled by leftwingers, declared the senator should pay more attention to the party platform. J. Ed Connally, chairman of the state executive committee, quickly announced the Young Demos did not speak for the party. He called them "immature extremists."

Democrats of Texas, unofficial liberal organization, announced it would have a convention in Austin in May. DOT, also, has "fallen out" with Sen. Johnson.

In the Legislature, the House elections committee approved a bill that would allow Senator Johnson to run for president and re-election as senator in the same general election.

★

Investment Board Urged

A bill by Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville would create a new board to handle investments of three large state trust funds.

Making up the nine-member board would be the governor, attorney general, comptroller, chairmen of the two retirement systems, chairman of the State Board of Education and three bank presidents.

Investment in corporate stocks and bonds would be permitted by Hudson's measure. Altogether, the three funds total $820,000,000.

$1,900 Is Quota For Cancer Society

The American Cancer Society has set the 1959 quota for Randall County at $1,900, according to Tom Langston, chairman of the local unit.

"It will be necessary that the citizenry be generous in their contributions toward this great cause," Langston said.

Anyone not contacted may send their contributions to Mrs. Bill Downing or Mrs. Milton Morris, for Canyon residents east of the highway; Mrs. J. D. Barker, Mrs. Arthur C. Haley Jr., Mrs. Johnny McBroom or Mrs. J. O. Parker, for residents west of the highway.

Mrs. John Jennings, home demonstration club members; Charles Beckman or Raymond Batenhorst, Umbarger residents; Conway Kuykendall, residents of southern Randall County; or Mrs. Virginia Allen, college employees.

Langston said the local unit thanks the Buffalo Bills and Buffalo Gals, West Texas State College service organizations, for fixing the cancer kits.

Washington Report

Shades of Coxey's Army

By Representative Walter Rogers
18th Congressional District

LAST WEEK the Nation's Capital was visited by approximately 6,000 representatives of the unemployed. These jobless came from some 15 cities and gathered at the National Guard Armory to voice their complaints and to insist upon government action. The assembly was under the supervision of the AFL-CIO, as a Conference on Unemployed.

THE MEETING was addressed by a number of speakers, including George Meany, president, AFL-CIO; Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and named as the author of the demonstration; Senator Paul F. Douglas (D-Illinois), and our own Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, Majority Leader of the Senate.

THE GROUP WAS also addressed by Secretary of Labor Mitchell, and they had requested a speech by President Eisenhower; however, the President was in Augusta, Georgia, and not only missed a visit with the unemployed, but also missed throwing out the traditional first pitch at the opening Washingon-Baltimore baseball game.

SOME OF THE delegates at the Unemployment Conference appeared to be very bitter because the President had gone to Augusta, Georgia, at this particular time. Some of the speakers took advantage of this and made remarks about the President's absence that brought forth cat calls, boos and whistling.

SOME OF THE group fell victim to food poisoning as a result of partaking of a turkey and dressing dinner, but everyone recovered. One man was arrested and taken off the train for brandishing a pistol. There seemed to be some difficulty in identifying the delegation he represented.

HE STATED that when he went to get his unemployment check two weeks ago, he was asked to sign another register. Subsequently, he received a notice that he was a delegate to go to Washington on the Unemployment Conference. He is alleged to have stated further that he didn't know anything about it, but "a trip was a trip and he wasn't doing anything anyway."

★

THE MEETING was most orderly and the complaints, the protests and the feelings of the delegates were aired without incident and in keeping with good conduct.

THE SUPREME COURT

THE MAIL HAS been bringing in many letters highly critical of the Supreme Court and some of its recent decisions. The "double jeopardy" case about which I wrote last week has brought in quite a few comments. These letters also go back and discuss other decisions with which the writers are in disagreement with the Court.

THE RECENT decision of the Court refusing to interfere with the ban on women being allowed to attend Texas A & M College has brought forth quite a bit of comment from a number of sources, both within our district and without. The matter has been discussed editorially and in the syndicated columns in many of the Eastern newspapers.

ONE OF THE letters I received, concerning the state of the nation, treated the Supreme Court problem by stating, "The Supreme Court should be confined to interrupting the law, rather than making it." The American Bar Association seemed to think that the Court was probably doing both, which probably explains why some of the lawyers in government service have decided to withdraw from the American Bar Association.

NO DOUBT, the Supreme Court should, like Caesar's wife, be above suspicion, but in a democratic government it will never be above criticism.

British Troubles

THE BRITISH seem to be having some difficulties trying to prevent Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery from paying a visit to Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow. They seem to think, from dispatches, that Montgomery is totally void of tact and would probably turn out to be a trouble maker.

SOME THINK that he is prompted more by his desire for publicity than by his hope of making a contribution to the solution of some of the problems. As for me, I think he should be allowed to go.

IT SEEMS THAT every time Great Britain sends a peacemaker to visit a foreign power, we end up in a world war. Perhaps if they would send a trouble maker over, it might contribute to peace. I might say further that, as far as I am concerned, Montgomery can stay in Moscow, and the same goes for some military prima donnas residing in some other countries.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

BY LOUISE ALLEN

ARE YOU ONE of those "busy, busy" women, whose "schedule" is always full to overflowing? If so, you often hear, "I don't see how you do it!" "You just must slow down!" "Why don't you let somebody else do that?"

THE FACT THAT a person is always busy bespeaks some strength and some weaknesses: On the plus side, she isn't lazy. She probably likes people and so reaches out toward them — as neighbors, in clubs, the church and the community. Often she is compensating for some lack in her personal life: no children, a husband addicted to golf or some other hobby, too little spending money, or general boredom.

ON THE MINUS side, she doesn't know how to say no, even when her better judgment tells her to. She is often "cheating" on family relations, housework, her own needed leisure, or more important activities to "see through" all the unimportant little duties she assumes.

SHE ALSO BECOMES an expert on busy-ness and nothing bores her more thoroughly than having to listen to the schedule of another over-active somebody. She starts clicking mentally: "You think YOU'RE busy — you should hear MY calendar!" . . . "Now THAT you could avoid; it isn't at all necessary" . . . "That's poor planning!" Of course she doesn't say these things out loud — she knows better. But she is smart enough to know that in any full schedule there are things one is really responsible for, those she can leave or take as she chooses, and those wholly unnecessary which she enjoys.

FOLKS BUSY themselves at a wild assortment of activities, and for a variety of reasons. But one thing they have in common: they don't like to be told how to run their lives, and woe unto the fellow who tries it!

RAMBLING AROUND

DOYLE G. THOMAS
ASC Office Manager

WE HAD OCCASION about two weeks ago to visit several farms in the south and west part of the county. We noted lots of activity going on. An underground irrigation pipeline system was being installd on the W. S. Simms' farm northwest of Happy.

This is one of our appsoved psactices under the Agricultual Conservation Program and goes a long way toward the ionservation of our limited underground water supply. Aiross the road from Mr. Simms' place we noted that constroction of the O. H. Rahlfs home was proceeding rapidly. O. H. is a former chairman of the County Committee.

In passing the Don Schaeffer farm we saw that he was having irrigation motor trouble. We stopped and he took us out in his field of Hairy Vetch and Rye mixture. Don uses this mixture each year for pasture and to improve his soil. He was wondering why more farmers did not use it but decided that it was because of lack of knowledge.

VETCH IS AN excellent soil builder and eliminates the use of commercial fertilizer. This is a big item in this day of high expenses and low farm prices. In addition, Don said that the mixture gave him more grazing than any other crop. The seeding of vetch will be available for cost-share assistance under ACP this fall. We urge other farmers to follow the lead of Don and try this crop.

On our rounds we couldn't help but notice the large acreage over the area that had been chiseled or subsoiled. There is no doubt in our mind but that the sand and dirt would have been a much bigger problem had this not been done. The farm of Ben Buecker's is an example. He had subsoiled this field and did an outstanding job.

The subsoiling will not only prevent wind erosion but will allow any moisture that might fall to go into the ground instead of running off and carrying top soil with it.

ANYTIME WE PASS Walter Graham's ranch we like to look at the grass reseeding on his Conservation Reserve Acreage and see how it is coming along. It is nothing short of amazing to see what he did in two short years. It is a good example of what can be done with eroded land with the proper care. Even without the Conservation Reserve Program this land will pay more in the grass than it would in cropland. Other farmers are realizing this and putting marginal land back to grass.

The largest acreage ever has been reseeded to grass under the ACP program this year. We feel that the results shown on Conservation Reserve Acreage such as Mr. Graham's and others are largely responsible for this.

A surprise shower was given for Mrs. Chandler Foster after the meeting. Refreshments were servd to 20 members and guests.

the years following, Mr. Burrow built an empire of lumber yards in this area. At one time he owned yards in Happy, Dalhart, Slaton, Perryton, Muleshoe, and Beaver, Okla. All but the yards in Canyon and Happy were sold during the 1930's.

Mr. Burrow's life was not tied completely to business. He was active in civic and church work. The son of a Presbyterian preacher, he was a deacon and later an elder of the Presbyterian Church here. When he first came to Canyon, he came with his father, who became the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here.

When the present First Presbyterian Church was built, Mr. Burrow was a member of the committee which directed the construction.

During World War I, Mr. Burrow was active in raising money to fight the war. He was chairman of the General Committee of the United States War Work Campaign, and was director of Sales Agents of War Loans Organization of the 11th Federal War Savings District. He worked in the same field during World War II.

In 1917, Mr. Burrow was elected to the school board and served as secretary at a time when the board secretary was charged with keeping records.

Mr. Burrow was a city commissioner for two terms, then served Canyon as mayor from 1932 until 1938. He was active in the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

He helped the organization of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, and did much work during the campaign to raise money to build the museum on the campus of West Texas State. Mr. Burrow has been on the board of directors of the society since the mid-1940's.

He was active in trade associations, and served as president of the Panhandle Lumbermans Association and as vice president and president of the Lumber Association of Texas, and on the board of directors of the state organization.

Aerial Education Course Offered

An aviation education workshop, which will feature field trips by air, will be held July 20-Aug. 7 at West Texas State College.

The workshop, for which three semester hours credit may be earned, is designed to provide elementary and secondary school teachers with a general background in aviation "and an understanding of the air age."

Units of study, on a non-technical level, will cover such topics as theory of flight, rocket and space developments, power for aircraft, elementary navigation and weather, airways traffic control, airport procedures, and aviation in education.

Three semester hours of graduate credit may be earned through the course, according to Kenneth Waugh, assistant professor of education who will coordinate the course. The workshop is sponsored jointly by WT, the Civil Air Patrol, and the United States Air Force.

A three-day field trip to two Air Force Military installations via military aircraft is planned during the workshop, and orientation flights will be given to all who desire them. Facilities of the Amarillo Air Force Base and the Air Terminal will be utilized.

Guest instructors and speakers from business, the Air Force, and the CAP will appear and give demonstrations and laboratory sessions.

★

The field trip will consist of an "air lift" of the workshop personnel to Randolph and Carswell Air Force bases to visit those installations.

First Christian Sets 'Moganga'

"Monganga" will be shown this Sunday at the 7 p. m. service of the First Christian Church, to climax a special study on foreign missions.

The film, which was produced jointly by the American Medical Association and the Smith, Kline and French laboratories, shows medical missionary work in the Belgion Congo conducted by the Christian churches. Dr. John E. Ross is the principal character in the missionary work.

The production has been televised twice by the "March of Medicine" program on coast to coast networks.

Following the service Sunday, refreshments will be served in the social hall of the church.

The public is invited, according to the Rev. Dale Harter, pastor.

Migration Queries Planned for Survey

Special questions on migration will be asked in the April Current Population Survey, according to supervisor Francis H. Wilmer, of the U. S. Census Bureau's regional field office in Denver, which will participate in the survey.

Similar migration questions asked in the survey last year revealed that 33 million people, or 19.8 per cent of the 168 million in the civilian population one year old and over, moved from one house to another between March, 1957, and March, 1958.

Two-thirds, or 22 million, of the movers in the 1957-58 period changed residences within the same county. One-third, or about 11 million, moved from one county to another, with this group divided about half and half between intrastate and interstate movers.

The West continued to have the most mobile population, 26.7 per cent having moved in the 1957-58 period. The mobility rate for the South was next highest with 22.8 per cent, while the rate for the North Central region was 18.2 per cent and the Northeast, 14.3 per cent.

The migration questions will be in addition to the regular monthly Current Population Survey inquiries on employment and unemployment. Current Population Survey information will be collected locally during the week of April 20.

Many Lakes Within Driving Range Offer Possibilities for Fishing

With the closing of Buffalo Lake for fishing for the coming year, fishermen of this area will be looking for lakes within easy driving distance for recreation.

Located in the Panhandle of Texas are several lakes smaller than Buffalo, each with varying possibilities for good catches. Some are private lakes while others are governmentally owned.

To the north are Lake Fryer at Perryton, Rita Blanca Lake at Dalhart, and Lake Marvin at Canadian. To the east are McClellan Lake near McLean, Lake Childress near Childress and Lake Pauline near Quanah. And to the south is Burson Lake near Silverton.

Outside the Panhandle are a great number of lakes, some of which are as close to Canyon as the Panhandle lakes.

Fishing has been extremely good this spring at Conchas Lake, with many anglers from Canyon reporting fine catches of crappie and bass, some walleyed pike and even channel catfish so early in the season. The lake is north of Tucumcari.

Almagordo Lake near Fort Sumner, N. M., is expected to be a good fishing lake this year. Other New Mexico lakes within fairly easy driving include Storrie Lake and McAllister Lake near Las Vegas. Storrie Lake is stocked with white crappie and rainbow trout. McAllister Lake is stocked with trout and largemouth bass.

★

Charette Lakes, also in the Las Vegas-Springer area, is stocked with trout and yellow perch. Maxwell Lakes provide both warm water and trout fishing. Other lakes in Northeastern New Mexico include Clayton Lake, Lake Maloya and Springer Lake.

In Oklahoma, about 180 miles from Canyon, is Lugert Lake, near Altus. The lake is also called Lake Altus and Quartz Mountain lake.

Further to the east in Oklahoma are any number of lakes, many with fine reputations for good fishing.

Down south in Texas are a series of lakes on the Brazos, Colorado and other rivers. Probably the closest is Stamford Lake, near Haskell and Stamford. On the Brazos downstream are Possum Kingdom near Graham and Lake Whitney near Waco.

On the Colorado River are Lake Thomas near Snyder and the Highlands lakes near Austin. At San Angelo are Lake Nasworthy and San Angelo Reservoir. Even further south are Lake Walk and Devil's Lake near Del Rio and Falcon Reservoir south of Laredo.

Near Wichita Falls are Lake Kemp, Santa Rosa Lake, Lake Kickapoo, and Diversion Lake. The Dallas-Fort Worth area has a great number of lakes, including Lake Bridgeport, Eagle Mountain Lake, Grapevine Reservoir, Garza-Little Elm, Lake Lavon and Lake Dallas.

West Side HD Meets Wednesday

The West Side Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Lee Roy West.

Mrs. J. T. Brown gave the program on home care of the eyes. Refreshments were served to three visitors and 11 members.

Next meeting will be May 6 with Mrs. Lewis Harvey.

Final TSTA Meeting Planned April 30

Final meeting of the year of the Randall County Unit, Texas State Teachers Association, will be held April 30 at 3:45 p. m., according to Kenneth Waugh, president.

The meeting will be at the high school cafeteria. Featured during the meeting will be an election of officers, report on the constitution and other necessary business, Waugh said. Refreshments will be served.

Bright's Song Sung in Europe

Dr. Houston Bright's nationally popular chorus, "I Hear a Voice a-Prayin'," has now been performed in all the major music centers of Europe, according to information recently received.

The famous All-America Chorus, directed by Dr .Allen Dash, which tours Europe every summer, used the number on all of its foreign concerts during the summer of 1958. The spiritual-style choral work was heard in such cities as London, Paris, Rome, Madrid, and Frankfurt. It was used on the continental TV network of Radio Luxembourg, and was also performed at the Worlds Fair in Brussels.

Health Department Warns About Using Plastic Sheets for Cribs

Five Texas babies—all less than one year old—smothered in their sleep last year in freakish accidents involving disposable sheets of plastic material.

The thin, adhesive plastic is in common use today for purposes ranging from packaging laundry and cleaning to making back yard hothouses. The leaths grimly acdentuate the growing danger of using the lightweight material to proteut bedding on a baby's crib, according to the Texas State Department of Health.

An eight-month-old boy died in Irving on June 7 during his morning nap. He was discovered with his head covered by a makeshift plastic crib sheet. The immediate cause of death was said to be suffocation.

In Victoria on Sept. 28 a five-month-old boy smothered under similar circumstances when he pulled a plastic sheet over his face.

A four-month-old Freeport girl suffocated on July 12 when she rolled over in her crib into a plastic bag.

On Aug. 16, a seven-month-old Hamlin girl smothered when she became entangled in a plastic sheet thrown over her bed to protect the bedding.

A plastic crib cover inadvertantly pulled over his head caused the suffocation death on Nov. 26 of a four-month-old Tyler boy.

Disposable sheets of plastic have been boosn to busy mothers of infants because of time saved in laundering bedding. But the only safe plastic bedding protector is the type made specifically for that purpose—one which can be stitched to the mattress or tucked under it.

Piecing flimsy laundry or cleaning bags together to make a sheet can be fatal for a baby, the health department says.

To prove the point, examine one of the bags the laundry or dry cleaners uses to package clean clothes. Although perfect for that use, note how it clings to human skin.

Hold it to your face. Notice how quickly and effectively it throttles your breath when you inhale. Imagine that happening to an infant lying helplessiy in its crib.

The bags come in handy for a great many things about the house and yard. But using them in a baby's bed isn't one of them, the health department warns.

T & T Club Meets With Mrs. Wilson

The Tongue and Thimble Club met with Mrs. E. M. Wilson Thursday afternoon.

Roll call was answered by members telling an exciting experience they had had with an animal. A question game was enjoyed by the group. Items were collected for a sunshine box for Mrs. Jim Williams, who will be confined to her bed for the next four months.

Refreshments were served to Georgia Rogers, Terry Foster, Nan Earyle Gauthreaux, Annie Wesley, Virgia Liston, Serena Bryan, Lizzie Wesley, Madge Sutton and the hostess.

The story of
WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE and The Church Bell

"I don't need to advertise," an established merchant in Kansas once told William Allen White, renowned publisher of The Emporia Gazette. "Everybody knows me and knows what I sell."

"In that event," replied the thoughtful publisher, "we can dispense with the oldest advertising medium for the oldest institution in the world. See that church down the street," continued Mr. White, pointing to one of Emporia's oldest and most beautiful structures, "That church has been established here for many years. Everyone knows what it is and what it does. In the tower of the church is a bell and every Sunday it rings out to remind folks to come to church.

"Shoppers go where they are invited and stay where they are well treated," concluded the publisher.

"Regardless of how well established a firm may be, newspaper advertising is a repeated invitation and a reminder to come and do business with that store."

President Gives Farm Bureau Wheat Problem Recommendations

The American Farm Bureau has made a series of recommendations to Congress for the solution to the wheat problem. The statement of recommendations has been furnished by R. B. Gist Jr., president of the Randall County Farm Bureau. It follows:

"The sound approach to the wheat problem is long overdue. Farm Bureau believes that to be workable and generally acceptable a new wheat program must incorporate provisions which will encourage market expansion, reduce production incentives, minimize economic hardships on wheat growers and avoid shifting the burden of adjustment to producers of other farm commodities.

"To accomplish these objectives, Farm Bureau resolutions recommend the adoption of a program providing: 1. An orderly transition to a system whereby wheat support levels will be related to the average farm market price of wheat during the three years immediately preceding the year for which the support is to apply; 2. Plan for the termination of wheat acreage allotments and marketing quotas.

"To help farmers, including wheat farmers, to adjust production to current needs, the Farm Bureau favors a properly designed and administered conservation program that will: 1. Place emphasis on the retirement of land that otherwise would be devoted to crops; 2. Keep land out of production for a long term of years; 3. Result in sufficient participation to make a net contribution to reduce the production; 4. Prohibit harvesting or grazing of land under the program; 5. Encourage farmers to put entire farms under the program; 6. Avoid contributing to higher land prices. Payment in kind of Commodity Credit Corporation's stocks shall be used to the maximum extent possible in financing such a conservation reserve program.

"As a further means of speeding the time when wheat allotments and marketing quotas can be terminated, the Farm Bureau resolution recommends 'That the 15 acres and 200 bushel marketing quota exemptions be terminated; that workable regulations be developed under which compliance can be shifted from a harvested to a seeded acreage basis in a fair manner; and that marketing quotas penalty be based on an actual, rather than a normal, yield.'

"Farm Bureau did not spell out the percentage of the average market price for the preceding three years that should be used as a basis for price support. The organization offers to the agriculture committees its assistance in determining what this price should be. Farm Bureau did say that it was opposed to giving the Secretary of Agriculture the authority to place price supports within the range of 75%-90% of the three-year average market price.

"Farm Bureau members are aware of the fact that there is no easy solution to this problem. If a workable solution is found to the present wheat problem, it will take the combined efforts of farmers in a hard-hitting organization such as the Farm Bureau."

Many Defendants Fail to Appear

Department of Public Safety officials have announced that a large number of motorists fail to appear in court after giving their written promise to appear on a traffic violation.

Maj. R. A. Crowder, commander of Region 5, issued a reminder to motorists that a charge of "Failure to Appear" can be filed in addition to the original traffic charge in the event the defendant fails to appear in court for violation of the Uniform Traffic Act. The motorist may be found guilty of a misdemeanor and fined up to $200 for failing to appear even though found not guilty of the original traffic violation.

The major said that the problem is serious, in that serving warrants on motorists who fail to answer a traffic summons requires many man hours away from necessary patrol duties of traffic supervision.

In an effort to combat this, Crowder said that he has issued instructions to all under his command to advise those persons arrested that they may have a charge of this nature filed against them if they fail to appear in the proper court within the designated time.

When the defendant realizes that one additional charge was brought by his failure to keep his promise that he made when he signed the traffic ticket, he may think twice before disregarding the next summons, the major said.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

THE RANDALL-POTTER Soil Conservation District was organized in 1956 and since that time the district has obtained approximately 200 cooperators. To do the job the district started out to do in 1956 we needed more of the farmers and ranchers in the district cooperating with the board of supervisors.

THE TECHNICIANS of the Soil Conservation Service render technical assistance to the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District. Other agencies in the district also render aid and assistance to the district. To become a cooperator with the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District a farmer or rancher signs an agreement sheet that points out what the district and farmer agree to do. This agreement sheet may be modified or terminated by mutual agreement of the board of supervisors and the farmer or rancher.

THIS PAST WEEK the County Agent, S.C.S., A.S.C., game warden, F.H.A., chairman of S.C.D. board and A.S.C. county committee met to discuss and complete the conservation needs inventory for this district. This report pointed out to the men present that we have quite a bit of work that needs to be done on the farms and ranches in the district. The needed work can be accomplished through the A.C.P., Soil Bank, Great Plains and the Soil Conservation District program. Cost shares are offered under three of the above programs for conservation work accomplished on the farms and ranches. The Soil Conservation District provides technical help in planning and applying practices on the farms and ranches.

THE TECHNICIANS and the board of supervisors of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District will be glad to discuss any and all of the programs that could be used on your farm or ranch. The planning help will be furnished to you free of charge in planning and applying practices on your farm.

The more circuitous route a story travels the better it seems to get.

Why Gamble?

Yes, why gamble . . . when there's no chance of winning? That's the kind of gambling you're involved in when you drive your car beyond the recommended period without having the oil changed.

Although you may use the very best motor oil, such as Phillips 66 Trop-Artic*, there comes a time when the accumulation of impurities in the oil reduces its efficiency.

That's why lubrication experts say: the best motor protection is to use the best motor oil, and change it every 1,000 miles under average around-town driving conditions.

Be sure to let your Phillips 66 Dealer change oil for you on schedule.

The Ghost Walks

'Hamlet' Opens Wednesday Night

A surprising amount of current "talk," and sayings which make up current American language were originated in Shakespeare's "Hamlet." Many of these will be noted Wednesday night when the production opens for a four-night run in the Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State College.

☆

The drama, held by many to be the outstanding play of all time, will be directed by William A. Moore, assisted by Margaret Echols Moore. Curtain time each night will be 8:15 p. m., and admission is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for high school students and children. Reservations for any night may be made through the WT speech department.

☆

Some of the longer quotations from Shakespeare have become shortened through common usage or modified in other ways. A writer uses the expression, "For the apparel oft proclaims the man." In everyday use the expression has become "Clothes make the man." The expression, "Though this be madness, yet there is method in't," has become "There's method in his madness." In a similar way, "To Thine own self be true" has become "Be true to yourself."

A more pronounced type of modification can be seen in the phrase "The cat will mew, and dog will have his day" which has become "Every dog has his day."

On the other hand, many quotations from "Hamlet" have become part of the common language with little or no change. The following phrases are often used verbatim: "Frailty, thy name is woman," "Neither a borrower nor a lender be," "Something is rotten in the state of Denmark," and "Brevity is the soul of wit."

☆

Members of the cast include Eddie Thomas of Amarillo as Hamlet, Marti Hinson of Groom as Ophelia, David O'Keefe of Amarillo as Polonius, Don Essary of White Deer as Laertes, Scott Glenn of Borger as King Claudius, Penny Cox of Amarillo as Queen Gertrude.

☆

Others in the cast include John Robert Wheelock of Canyon as ghost and priest, Jerry Ballew of Perryton as Horatio, Leon Stephens of Dumas as Sexton and Lucanus, Jimmy Haiduk of Panhandle as a gravedigger, Pina Sturdivant of Matador as player queen, Pat Hilton of Pampa as a lady in waiting, Howard Mundy of Canyon as Rosencrantz, Mike Hood of Canyon as Guildenstern, Truman Laughery of Canyon as Osric and Marcellus, and Bill Harrison of Canyon as Bernardo and a sailor.
